

Celebrations

WWW.KANSAS.COM/LIVING

Courtesy photo

Project Beauty recently held its annual meeting to elect officers and make beautification and monetary awards. Botanica director Marty Miller was guest speaker. Since 1987, Botanica has received more than $250,000 from Project Beauty. Pictured, from left, are treasurer Nancy Boewe, second vice president Georgann Richardson, president Norma Jean Wagner, first vice president Pat Moran and secretary Carol Klaassen.

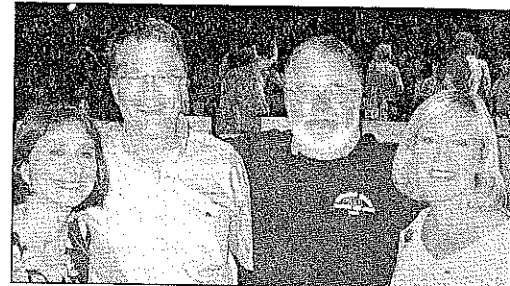

Bonnie Bing/The Wichita Eagle

Wishing the Bartlett Arboretum in Belle Plaine a happy 100th birthday and accepting awards at the seventh annual Garden Party June 5 were, from left, Mary Oliver, who won the croquet tournament; Phil Macy of Edmond, Okla., who won the Dapper Dan award for best-dressed man; Jennifer Pettersen of Belle Plaine, who won the congeniality award; and Sally Kimble, who won the Natty Nell award for best-dressed woman.

Courtesy photo

Jayne Milburn recently celebrated her 95th birthday with friends from the Ulrich Museum of Art and the Wichita Art Museum. Pictured are, bottom row, from left, Patricia McDonnell, Jayne Milburn and Norma Greever; and, top row, from left, Leslie Wilson, Louise Beren, Ann Townsend and Diana Gordon.

Bonnie Bing/The Wichita Eagle

Among those signing in relief after the Wichita Bar Association's stage show June 10 and 11 were, from left, veteran cast member Carol Boorady, director David Rogers, music director and producer Ken Gale, and Alisa Ehrlich, recipient of the Show Stopper Award. The show was held during the Kansas Bar Association convention here.

Courtesy photo

The Nonprofit Chamber of Service annual garden party was held June 10 at Prairie Pines Christmas Tree Farm. Among those attending, from left, were Walt Thiessen, board member for the organization and executive director of the Wichita Child Guidance Center; Kelly Peters, development manager for the Kansas Children's Service League; Jim Holt, CEO of Mid American Credit Union; Teresa Rupp, executive director for Child Start Inc.; Kevin Fish, board chairman for the Nonprofit Chamber and executive director of Arc of Sedgwick County; and Shelley Duncan, vice chairwoman for the Nonprofit Chamber and CEO of Youthville.

Bonnie Bing/The Wichita Eagle

Among those taking part in the Celebrity & Chef Cookoff last week at the Wichita Marriott were, from left, Brett Harris, radio personality at B-98, who won first prize with Marriott executive chef Peter Moretti (not pictured); cooking teacher Bonnie Aeschliman, who helped judge the event; and emcees Mike Whalen and Tim Moore. The event, a benefit for the Orpheum Theater, showed off the culinary talents of eight local chefs. This year's event will help restore brickwork on the building exterior.

Such Interesting PEOPLE
Every Day
The Wichita Eagle

Transfer Your Home Movies & Video to DVD
DVD Copies
LP's & Cassettes to CD
BEST PRICE IN TOWN!
PASSPORT PHOTOS WE SHRINKWRAP!
Moler's CAMERA
2609 E. Douglas
685-1114
M-F 9-5 SAT 10-4

AMERICAN POOL CO.
WWW.AMERICANPOOLCOMPANY.COM
Imagine Your Family...
FREE SALT GENERATOR! with pkg purchase
Custom Concrete Pools & Tubs with Vinyl Liners
SALES 316.806.6554 SERVICE/MAINTENANCE/REPAIR 316.312.9989

Pixar animates an old story from Hollywood: sequels

BUSINESS T & DAY
THURSDAYS
THE WICHITA EAGLE
Carrie Rengers, Have You Heard?