

This represents the first of what will become a long-running series which we are calling the Nonprofit Chamber of Services Nonprofit of the Week. This series has been established with the intent of increasing awareness of the many causes and efforts taken on by our nonprofit brethren. If your nonprofit has a particular event taking place during the course of a week, an anniversary for example, please make this known and we will do all possible to accommodate a spotlight that coincides. On behalf of our membership, we wish to say “thank you” for taking a few moments from your busy schedule to learn a bit more about our community of nonprofits.

This week we are highlighting the Women’s Initiative Network (WIN) as our Nonprofit of the Week. Kelly Rogers-Graham, WIN’s Executive Director is dedicated to cooperatively sharing experiences with our membership in order to enhance the services provided, not only by WIN, but also by other nonprofits in our area.

WIN’s primary mission is to help women coming from domestically violent households develop the tools they need to become economically self-sufficient. With the holidays fast approaching, something to keep in mind is the virtual potpourri of excellent gift ideas, including beautifully loomed rugs that WIN has to offer. Looming throw rugs from old donated blue jeans is one of the many ways WIN has incorporated therapeutic healing practices into a “winning” business for their clientele, who receive an income for their work.
